Do You Believe in Magick? The Occult Significance of 9/11

The Western Occult tradition has at the heart of its doctrine the magickal phrase - "As above, so below". Or in other words "That which is in the heavens is the same as that which is on the Earth".

This 'hermetic maxim' is the basis upon which stands the ancient teachings of Astrology, arguably the most popular of all the 'magickal arts'. Astrologers, through the "as above,so below" principle claim that the planets, stars and their constellations can accurately mirror events on the Earth.

On September 11th 2001, that which happened on our planet or 'below' was indeed reflected in the heavens 'above'. The astrological configuration of that fateful day was so accurate that it may force skeptics to ask if they should believe in Magick, and believers to ask "who are the Magicians..?"
